CRITTER CRUSADE®

BEING KIND TO CRITTERS – Be PAW-some with Persuasive Writing

One day in the summer, you and your friend, Casey, decide to go on a walk through the woods. You suddenly stop; there's a frog in your path! You tell Casey about the frog, who suggests to catch it. Before you can say anything, Casey starts running after the frog, who is hopping away. Finally, Casey catches the frog and starts poking it with a stick. While Casey is laughing and having a great time, you know that this is not a good way to treat animals. When you get home, you decide to write Casey an email about why it is important to be kind to animals.

Write your email below. Use the persuasion map to help you to organize your ideas.
